

CAST

Back Row:

Dr. Kenneth Gage-----Hubert Hall
 Perry Gage-----Dene McCormick
 Miss Amelia Gage-----Elda Motsenbocker
 Norma Gage-----Margaret Loyd
 Roderick Gage-----Bob Race
 Adam Throgg-----Jack Race

Front Row:

Trailing Arbutus Washington-----Roy Huggles
 Aunt Zinnia Washington-----Evelyn Everitt
 Maudie Hobbs-----Gladys Woodworth
 Mrs. Annabelle Gage-----Clara Rose

kitchen Kenneth goes to see Roderick. Perry and Mrs. Annabelle Gage then arrive. Adam shows them to their rooms. Maudie comes into the living room and starts to finish the dusting. She has to "buddle" when the doorbell rings. Miss Amelia Gage and Norma Gage have arrived. A short time later, Norma, Amelia, Annabelle, Perry, and Kenneth are in the living room. Roderick comes in and tells them the story of the Carita diamond. It is hidden in the Manor somewhere. He offers to make out his will to anyone who finds it. Act I ends with everyone sitting on the edge of their chairs. Roderick sits down in the haunted rocking chair, and a pair of gruesome hands close around his throat. Later in the night Norma and Kenneth find the diamond. At the end of the play Roderick tells everyone that the diamond was a fake and that Adam Throgg was the real culprit. Norma and Kenneth were the most kindly, unselfish, and deserving ones of the lot. Of course, Kenneth and Norma are happily married. The curtain went down with Maudie trying to choke the good for nothing T. A. who had been impersonating the scarecrow.

The play was a great success. The proceeds of the play were about $35.00

